Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims 12-14 drawn to an invention nonelected with traverse in the paper filed June 10, 2005. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancellation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brosseau et al (WO 99/60939) in view of Bucholz et al (6,236,875). Brosseau et al disclose a process of performing surgery on the knee. An image is obtained using an imager which can comprise an MRI or CT scanner, an instrument having an attached fiducial marker is used and markers are also attached to the tibia and femur. The position of the markers is detected by a position sensing system which can comprise a well known type of position and orientation tracking system such as a magnetic tracking system as is well known in the art. Brosseau et al fails to disclose attaching a fiducial marker to the imager as well as the instrument and body parts. Bucholz et al discloses a computer assisted surgical system having fiducials used to track the position of the imager in the system in order to determine the track the position of the imager relative to the body part being imaged. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to have modified Brosseau et al such that the imager also includes fiducials attached thereto in order to properly register the images with the body part being imaged by the imager. With respect to claim 7,8, the specific instrument used would have been an obvious design choice based upon the specific type of surgical procedure being performed. The use of such instruments are well known in the art for performing a surgical procedure on the knee. With regard to claim 9,11, the specific tests performed on the knee to assess the process would have been an obvious design choice of known equivalents in the art.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed February 21, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's arguments are not understood in that Bucholz discloses both a fiducial attached to a body part and a fiducial attached to an imager.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
